INTRODUCING CATHIE SIVINSKA MCCARTAN

Cathie is a Fashion Artist with a multi-disciplinary background of Fashion Technology, Bespoke Couture and Placement Printed Textile Art. Her current creative direction focuses on drawing the feminine through pattern cutting. Inspired by somaesthetics, internal awareness of the core, and sensory expression, Cathie's life drawings concentrate on defining the tonal facets of the female form or capturing the movements of the stretched figure.

The three-dimensional drawing process, extracts linear interpretations to sketch the gestures of mark making with the crafted construction of a second skin and structured shaping of fashion pieces and installation. Cathie's aim is to blend the boundaries between fashion and art, making a statement on the core values of creativity, clothing and self-expression. Other interests and experience include photography and digital artwork, teaching pattern cutting and construction and working with peers to host /organize social and public events.

INTRODUCING CAITLYN MATTHEWS

Caitlyn is a contemporary artist who's practice's focal point centres around the body's relationship to material and obscurity. Matthews is interested in the labour of the performance, the vulnerability of the body and the abstract effects of interacting with different materials and lighting and how these things can manipulate the body. They often step into these awkward moments, implicating themselves and the viewer. Carolee Schneemann is a direct influence on Caitlyn's practice with the use of the body in performance and contemporary approaches to material and form.

Caitlyn's practice is influenced by the Fourth-wave feminist movement that began around 2012 and is characterized by a focus on the empowerment of women, the use of internet tools, and intersectionality.

The fourth wave seeks greater gender equality by focusing on gendered norms and the marginalization of women in society.
